This I have to admit is one of my favourite Christmas themed tunes; it is happy, full of excitement and fun, and contains a superb melody that we will be whistling to ourselves all day long.

The above could very well be said for Lynn Yew Evers version of this classic, her holiday single contains a real lightness of heart and such a warmth in its performance, this will most certainly be placed on my Christmas playlist this year round.

Yew Evers is a consummate pianist and well trained performer and has shown here the gentle and cheer filled side to her usual crafted and technically sublime performances.

Listeners to this single, Winter Wonderland, will have many memories attached to this piece and Lynn Yew Evers has wrapped a wonderfully fluent solo piano present up for them, to place under their tree for these years festivities.
