

Lava Walker

By

Joanne Lazzaro and Susan SurfTone

Written

By

Steve Sheppard

It's unusual to hear liver material these days especially in this genre, but this brand new single by Joanne Lazzaro and Susan SurfTone really hits the musical spot, as there is a certain vibrancy here that is real pleasure to listen to.

The offering is called Lava Walker and contains the inventive and classy acoustic guitar of Susan SurfTone and the ever talented flute performer Joanne Lazzaro in what is a real mixture of Native flute meets a contemporary instrumental vibe.

Lazzaro, is an artist who is currently riding high in the world 100 charts for her genre with the album Canyon Shadows, and is really on a roll and here on this live single with SurfTone and they have brought us something quite acoustic to enjoy, something truly organic and real.

The combination of flute and acoustic guitar here has worked really well, there partnership between the two artist has gelled nicely, and thus brought us a fine single to add to our musical contemporary instrumental collection.