Wayne Bethanis and his creative muse have been dancing hand in hand recently; this rich vein of musical brilliance has risen once more to give us a truly energising offering entitled, Sunshine DNA.

This quite sprightly offering is multi instrumental in nature and so very powerful in its arrangement and composition. One is instantly empowered by listening to this exciting new single.

At times almost cinematic, all the time simply breath taking, the crescendos are timed to perfection and the performance by Wayne Bethanis on piano is the most passionate I have heard for quite some time, a thoroughly recommended work of art indeed.
